

VESPER-ONTM GAMES SELLOUT

Dear industry colleague,

We are Vesper-on Games, producers of Carnevale: the miniatures game and Home Raiders. Sadly we have reached the end of our journey with Vesper-on Games and we are closing the company. Our distributors tell us that our sales are slowly picking up speed, but sadly this is not happening fast enough for us to keep the engines running. We've always been a tiny company, and our lack of a financial strength to keep us on our feet prevented us to promote our products in the right way, in the way that a saturated and competitive market as ours requires.

We are selling off our assets, and we are reaching out to companies in our sector that might be interested in some of the items we have to offer.

We would like to offer you our three main assets. All of them are available independent from one another, but we would be interested in offering them as a bundle (and we would be happy to offer a much better prize for the whole lot). At the same time, we need to clear out our office and warehouse, so we would be willing to offer a better prize to anyone willing to close an operation this month of April.

SPIN CASTING MACHINES

We are offering our set of metal spin casting machines. That is the furnace, the spin caster and the vulcanizer. These can be bought brand new for around 25,000€ (TAX included). These are Nicem machines, a standard for the production of metal miniatures. They can easily be adapted to cast resin only by adding an extra tool (not included).

Ours have only been in use for a year, and these machines are highly durable. Second hand machines like these usually tend to be sold after 15 years of use.

On top of the machines, we will include for FREE the mould tray for vulcanization (850€), an air compressor (150€), all the needed tools for operating the machines (150€+), plus our surplus of unused moulds.

We would sell them for 15,000€ (plus Tax if relevant), and we are open to negotiation. Buyer is responsible for picking the machines and transportation. The machines will be delivered after examination by the buyer if requested and full payment has been made.

If you have any queries or questions, please send an email to david.llop@vesper-on.com with your contact information, and we will get in touch as soon as possible.

Carnevale®

Carnevale is a narrative miniatures game that allows you to play the part of an adventurers party in a dark and supernatural version of XVIII century Venice. You can be swashbucklers fighting evil scientists while jumping from rooftop to rooftop. Or submarine monsters that feed on the flesh of the common folk of this city. Maybe bloodthirsty vampires or agents of the Vatican forces. You will explore its canals and its bridges, you will command your squad and will have superpowered individuals fighting alongside you.

Carnevale has a gaming system that allows you to explore all the cinematic aspects of its background. It has a campaign system that will enable you to evolve your squad of characters.

Carnevale is our most recognized brand. Nominated to the Origins awards in 2012 as Best Miniatures game of the year, and has one of the most original settings in the market these days. It has a range of more than 80 original models, sculpted by industry tops such as Jacques-Alexandre Gillois, Thomas David, Pablo Sapia, Patrick Mason, Rémy Tremblay, Ángel Terol or Joaquin Palacios. And we also have sculpts that haven't been released yet.

We have an updated 272 page full colour, hard cover rulebook both in English and in Spanish language. We also have a handy pocket rulebook with the bare rules in black and white in English, spanish and French.

At this moment we have existing stock of a value close to 70,000€ euros in final Recommended Retail Prize, including miniatures and books.

We will provide contact with our current distributor for Spain, UK and Europe, who is truly interested in continuing selling our brands.

We are willing to sell the Carnevale IP and its rules, along with all of our existing stock of miniatures and books and production moulds for 13,000€ (plus Tax if relevant), and we are open to negotiation. Buyer is responsible for picking the product and transportation. The product will be delivered after examination by the buyer if requested and full payment has been made.

We would require that the original creators of the game to be properly credited in all future versions of the game, and it would be appreciated if we could receive five copies of anything done with this IP in the future.

If you have any queries or questions, please send an email to david.llop@vesper-on.com with your contact information, and we will get in touch as soon as possible.

HOME RAIDERS

Home Raiders is a game played with small scale models. These models represent the combatants that travel from a dimension known as the Inner-space to your very home, in order to battle for the dominance of your space. These fighters are little folk (which means that the scale of the models is actually 1:1) which exist in dimensions parallel to ours, and crash our world in order to thrive in theirs.

The game is very easy to grasp, and is a great option for a fast game that takes place on your living room coffee table, your office desk, or even around your kitchen sink. It takes no time at all to set up, so you can get your dice rolling in a breeze. If you are an experienced gamer, Home Raiders is a great choice for an improvised gaming session or even a well laid out match amongst a bunch of friends. If you want to play with your younger brothers and sisters, cousins or even your children, you won't find a better option to getting them started with this amazing hobby. The game rules are available in English, French, Spanish, German, Italian, Portuguese, Catalan, Dutch and Norwegian. Home Raiders is the best introductory game in the market.

At this moment we have some stock available, essentially core games. We are including a stock of about 4,000 units of each of the three ACE system dice, and all of the current IP and concept artwork made so far.

We will provide contact with our current distributor for Spain, UK and Europe, who is truly interested in continuing selling our brands.

We are willing to sell the Home Raiders IP and its rules, along with all of our existing stock and miniatures moulds for 10,000€ (plus Tax if relevant), and we are open to negotiation. Buyer is responsible for picking the product and transportation. The product will be delivered after examination by the buyer (if needed) and full payment has been made. We would require that the original creators of the game to be properly credited in all future versions of the game, and it would be appreciated if we could receive five copies of anything done with this IP in the future.

If you have any queries or questions, please send an email to david.llop@vesper-on.com with your contact information, and we will get in touch as soon as possible.

